15 November 2007

Dear Mr Feiglin

I am writing to advise you that following the London bombings in July 2005, the Home Secretary announced a list of particular activities that would normally lead to a person being excluded or deported from the UK on the grounds that their presence in the United Kingdom is not conducive to the public good. The list of unacceptable behaviours covers any non-UK national whether in the UK or abroad who uses any means or medium including:

- writing, producing, publishing or distributing material;
- public speaking including preaching;
- running a website;
- using a position of responsibility such as a teacher, community or youth leader;

To express views that:

- foment or justify terrorist violence in furtherance of particular beliefs;
- seek to provoke others to terrorist acts;
- foment other serious criminal activity or seek to provoke others to serious criminal acts;
- foster hatred which might lead to inter-community violence in the UK.

The list is indicative and not exhaustive.

The Home Secretary has considered whether, in light of this list, you should be excluded from the United Kingdom. After careful consideration she has personally directed that you should be excluded from the United Kingdom on the grounds that your presence here would not be conducive to the public good. She has reached this decision because you have used your position to propagate views which foment and provoke others to serious criminal acts and also foster hatred which might lead to inter-community violence in the UK. This has brought you within the scope of the list of unacceptable behaviours.

The Home Secretary notes that you have made the following statements:

"In order to declare that we are right, we have to declare war. War now! It's not the Arabs who are murdering mothers, but those merciful people who gave weapons to the murderers. It's not the Arabs who are burning babies, but the peaceniks that recognized the justice of the Arabs cause. It's not the cruel people who are bombing us, but the merciful people who showed them mercy. War now! A holy war, now" – "War Now" article by you, quote on Channel 7 Israel National website.

"The Christian world is faced with two options: it can fight against terror, which means fighting against Islam, or it can surrender and be gradually overcome by the waves of the modern Moslem Jihad...Arabs are not sons of the desert but its father. They created the desert – everywhere they come vegetation stops and the wind blow everything away" – Extract from an article by you quoted on the 'Israel Science and Technology Homepage'

"The basis of Islam is not the quality of mercy but of justice. If Christianity bridges the gap between sin and morals by automatic benevolence and absolution (that over long periods were sold by clergy), Islam does this in a far simpler way – it abolishes both benevolence and morals...Their holy Muhammad is strong, cruel and deceitful."

In expressing such views it is considered that you are seeking to provoke others to serious criminal acts and fostering hatred which might lead to inter-community violence in the UK.

The Home Secretary considers that should you be allowed to enter the UK you would continue to espouse such views, which would not be conducive to the public good in the U.K.

In light of these factors, the Home Secretary is satisfied you should be excluded from the UK on the grounds that your exclusion is conducive to the public good. You are advised not to travel to the UK as you will be refused admission on arrival. Although there is no statutory right of appeal against the Home Secretary's decision, this decision is reviewed every three years.

Yours sincerely

On behalf of the Secretary of State for the Home Department
